EMR Test Management

Optimum's test script management system is designed to streamline and enhance quality assurance processes during EMR implementation and updates

During the implementation or updating of an electronic medical record (EMR), there is extensive script testing that needs to occur. Without running these important tests, an organization will see an increase in the number of incidents during go-live, which may impact operations, finances and, ultimately, patient care.

Optimum Healthcare IT offers a Test Script Management Solution that provides immediate access to this critical test data with a user-friendly, real-time dashboard. This dashboard is designed to streamline and enhance the quality assurance process by fostering informed decision-making and productivity, providing comprehensive version tracking capabilities, simplifying documentation of test scripts and their statuses, and facilitating efficient assignment and monitoring of defects.
